THE solemn have been closed in Lawrence—the home of the celebrated John Walcott.

As Belknap has decided to re-enter Iowa politics, there ought to be a good chance for "old Tom" in Kansas.

Gen. GRANT slipped and fell last Thursday, receiving injuries that may confine him to his room for weeks.

THE bodies of Captain DeLong and his band of Arctic explorers will arrive in this country early in February.

THE Mexican Presidential election comes off next June, and Gen. Diaz will undoubtedly have a walk-over for the position.

BISHOP WARREN, of the M. E. Church, was married the other day to Mrs. Telf, widow of the cattle king of Colorado, worth $5,000,000.

N. W. FITZGERALD, the suspended Washington pension attorney, has dismissed his libel suits against the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. Is it because it is no libel to tell the truth?

SENATOR ALLISON, of Iowa, has no opposition in his own party for re-election, and will therefore have a walk-over, the Republicans having a good majority on joint ballot. He has served eight years in the house and twelve years in the senate.

We understand that Chaffee, of Colorado, says that Grant, Blaine and Conkling have come together upon the following agreement: Blaine to be President; Grant, Secretary of State; Conkling, in his old position in the Senate. We only hope that such a scheme may succeed.

It is claimed that Blaine's fine Italian hand is discovered in making Chicago the place for holding the Republican National Convention. Blaine and Logan are recorded as having joined hands in this matter against Arthur—the President preferring either Philadelphia or Cincinnati.

GENERAL MACKENZIE, commander of the Department of Texas, has been temporarily relieved of command on account of nervous prostration, which disturbed the affairs of the department. It was discovered by General Schofield. The condition of General Mackenzie causes grave apprehension of friends.

THE Union Pacific and the Missouri Pacific have paid into the State Treasury the respective taxes against them for the support of the Railroad Commission. Speaking through their respective attorneys they say that all they believe the law to be unconstitutional, they advise the payments as best showing the people of Kansas the wish on their part to avoid antagonism, and also because it may be cheaper to pay it than beat it in the courts. The railroads are acting very sensibly at last.

THE Manhattan Nationalist is bold that the report that Gov. St. John is to remove to Olathe and become a candidate for the State Senate is actually true. The Nationalist disapproves of his candidacy, saying that it would be not only injurious to himself, but to the Republican party and the cause of prohibition besides. The following is the Nationalist's protest:

For the Governor, personally, such a step would be a blunder. To decide so early to re-enter the political arena at the bottom of the ladder, would be a humiliating confession of his political prostration, and such a demonstration that his long for office is as strong as to utter his judgment as to cause many of his renouncing friends to give him up. By a policy of "masterly inactivity," so far as office seeking is concerned, and a continuance of his labors in the temperance cause, he would retain all of his old, besides making millions of new friends, while the number and bitterness of his enemies would steadily diminish. A change for the better is already made, if the Governor does not convince other aspirants that he is not in their way, the old animosities will be revived and intensified. The Republican party would, of course, be injured by such a contest. There is already too much division and heart-burning. The wise heads are puzzling over the problem of how to restore a better state of feeling without lowering the standard; and the re-entry of the ex-Governor, an office seeker would seriously complicate matters.

The carpenter work upon the new mill at the upper dam is completed.

The durability of the "Davis" has been demonstrated beyond a doubt.

A daughter of Mr. E. W. Blair, of Wakeeney, was buried here last Thursday.

Clair Paley, formerly foreman of the Journal, is advance agent for the Louis Lord Troupe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith, from Salina, were visiting in the city this week—Minneapolis Messenger.

Harry Nickles, temporarily employed in a dry goods house of Topeka, made a visit to his Salina friends last week.

There was a pleasant gathering of the relatives and neighbors of Andrew A. Morrison at his home on the Saline river, last Thursday night.

Mr. W. M. Shaw, of Salina, and Miss Shaw, of the Planters yesterday—Leavenworth Times, Dec. 27.

The secretary of Gypsum Hill Cemetery Association reports that only two burials have taken place in Salina's cemetery during the past three months.

Our friends at Lindsborg no longer see through a glass darkly the fact of their town becoming a metropolis in its pretensions. The post-office of that place has been a "presidential office" and its post-master will hereafter receive a salary of $1,100 per year.

At one of the meetings of the State Teachers' Association, last week, while the pedagogues were discussing the "Teacher in Politics," Prof. Pringle was one of the speakers. The report in the Topeka Capital speaks of his effort as follows: "He (Ex-Chancellor Marvin) was followed by Prof. T. D. Fitzpatrick, of Salina, who also held his hearers in rapt attention with one of the most and most interesting political speeches that has been heard for a long time in the Senate Chamber."

The railroad is getting on slowly but surely. The exceedingly cold weather, at times, during the past two or three weeks, has interfered with the work, so the men would not stay out on the track and work in the bitter wind; and many of Mr. Spencer's men have quit. In order to render them more comfortable, Mr. Spencer has had one of the cars boxed up and stoves put in so that the men can keep warm on the ride in and out, and eat their dinner in comfort. The end of the track will be out beyond Mr. Chase's at the end of this week. The work does not get on warily as suggested, but it seems almost impossible to get men. When the weather moderates, so that more men can be had, the track-grooving will progress faster than usual.

The vertical feed is used only in the DAVIS SEWING MACHINE. No others have the right to use this feed. By this new feed method, all manner of sewing is done perfectly without busting, and there can be no "falling" of the goods, either above or below. Both upper and under piles of goods are always carried together, as the vertical feed works equally on both, instead of only on the bottom pile, as is the case with the old underfeed, as used in all other machines. This new feed does not stop at seams, but steps evenly over them. It is mainly this new feed invention that places the "Davis" so far ahead of all other machines.

A LONG LOST BOOK.
A Bible Found upon a Battle Field About To Be Restored to Its Former Owner.

From the Dubuque Iowa Herald.
Mr. James Plaster, the well-known insurance agent of this city, while passing through the city of Dubuque on his return from England a few weeks ago, became acquainted with a gentleman and fellow passenger who carried a book with him, and which he was about to dispose of.

The gentleman was one Maj. R. W. Millard, of St. Louis, Mo., and during the late war he was major of a Georgia regiment. At the battle of Resaca, Georgia, after the union troops were driven from the battle field, the major picked up a knapsack and discovered among other contents a Bible, bearing the following inscription: "Henry Casey, presented by M. H. H. Lake Zurich, Lake county, Illinois. On January 1st, 1862." The great book was the following: "Henry Casey, drum major, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, Second brigade, Fourth division, Seventeenth army corps." The major said he had kept the book for the past twenty years in the hopes that he might be able some day to call upon the owner and present it to him, but inasmuch as Mr. Plaster was going near the place where the owner resided at the time of the war, he suggested that Mr. Plaster take the book and endeavor to restore it to the former owner. Mr. Plaster promised to do so, and when on his way home went to Lake Zurich, which is thirty miles north of Chicago, but failed to find the gentleman. He was informed however, that Mr. Casey had been a former resident of the place, but at present was living at Beloit, Mitchell, county, Wis. Mr. Plaster addressed a letter to Mr. Casey, informing him of the facts above mentioned, and as soon as he heard from the gentleman he will forward the long lost book, a keepsake which his former owner will undoubtedly prize as long as he lives.

Mr. Casey is an old friend of Mr. A. E. Ransom of this city.

JEALOUSY AND ITS FRUIT.
While the ever zealous citizens of Salina have found an extra preference of business, because of increasing prosperity, the "Enemy of all" has found some, who, not having business enough of their own, were ready to do his bidding. In proof whereof we cite the following letter mailed from Topeka to the P. M. at North Adams, Mass., with these directions: "P. M. please deliver to parties named within." The letter was dated at Salina, Kansas, Aug. 9th, 1883, and runs thus:

"Mr. Sampson, it is advertised that you offer to assist the Rev. A. M. Stewart to build a Baptist church. The fact is they have a good, comfortable church that satisfies their people and public, and at no time has it failed to supply the church for worship. Scarcely a house half filled. The public feeling is, that his people had better worship in their present building, as there is no necessity for any change, only to gratify an ambitious motive as to change of locality, and a more pretentious edifice while by no means required. Before making your investments, better find out the necessity. David Wise."

"For reference I refer you to A. M. Hamilton, Markland & Dodge, of Salina, Kansas."

This javelin was evidently intended for Bro. C. T. Sampson of North Adams, a Jonathan in deed if not in name. We had heard of Bro. Sampson by report before coming to Kansas, but through Bro. Daniel Upton, of North Adams, Mass., who has grandchildren in this city, have come to know him; even in a substantial way he has shown his interest in the work of the Master in Salina. And if friend Wise, with all his hatred of Baptist principles, thinks to thwart not merely the purpose of A. M. Stewart and his faithful Providence as well, he is not as wise as his name would indicate. "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

It is no new thing for my work to be attacked in this cowardly way, and even my character has been assailed more than once during my pastoral tenure of three years, and while through it all I have been sustained by "Divine Grace" the work of these enemies has hindered my usefulness in the Master's Vineyard. Often have I been tempted to lay the strong arm of the law upon these lying scoundrel mongers. To all these enemies of "faith once delivered to the saints" we have only a word:

The Baptist church is here to stay, to grow and prosper, and to sustain some humble servant of God in proclaiming "The Truth," and the sooner we get rid of the "Enemy of all" the better for them and the harmonious and prosperous growth of our beautiful city.

A. M. STEWARD,
Pastor First Baptist Church.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1884.
The Art Interchange.

An illustrated household journal, with colored plates. Twenty-six numbers: 15 cents a copy, issued fortnightly on Thursdays. The only art journal published oftener than once a month. Invaluable hints for home decoration. The latest ideas in art from Europe and foreign sources.

LEADING FEATURES.
THE ART INTERCHANGE is a thoroughly practical, intelligible, inexpensive art journal. It is devoted to decorative, literary and pictorial art, home art work, literary and art news, and questions and answers. It is handsomely illustrated with leading examples of art, besides giving full-size working patterns of standard decorative designs, for the use of amateurs and professional art students, workers in ceramics, art needlework, and the kindred minor decorative arts.

COLORED PLATES.
This new feature has been added to the other departments of THE ART INTERCHANGE in response to requests from hundreds of amateurs who find it impossible to obtain satisfactory working designs in color unless they order them direct from artists at a cost of from fifteen dollars and upward. Great care has been taken to secure the services of artists of the first rank in their respective countries, especially adapted to the requirements of art students. Every branch of art—painting, embroidery, glass staining, stenciling, etc.—has been considered in the selection of the designs, so that all art workers will find them of the greatest possible value.

THE NEWEST ART OCCUPATION receives ample attention, and the difficulties of individual workers in response are explained. Designs for borders, trays, tiles, candlesticks, paper tops, etc., are published regularly.

INSTRUCTIONS and suggestions are given in art needlework, painting on wood, carving, china and wood carving, mural decoration, drawing, sketching on linen, tapestry, etc.

NOTES, QUESTIONS, AND ANSWERS.
The Note and Query Department is open to all enquirers without charge. Here all difficulties are clearly explained. Designs for borders, trays, tiles, candlesticks, paper tops, etc., are published regularly.

SUPPLEMENTS of full-size working designs giving decorative patterns suitable for tracing or copying, with directions for their practical application are a regular feature. Extra double sheet supplements are issued periodically. The illustrations include designs for all forms of embroidery, painting on textiles, silk, satin, felt, plush, and china; working in metal, sketching on linen, and suggestions for color decoration and artistic furnishing for rooms, published to meet individual wants, but of advantage to all who read them. They cover everything other than through the paper, would cost at least twenty-five dollars.

Special illustrations published when desired.
The Note and Query Department is open to all enquirers without charge. Here all difficulties are clearly explained. Designs for borders, trays, tiles, candlesticks, paper tops, etc., are published regularly.

PERSONS AND THINGS.
General Butler will return to Washington to reside when his gubernatorial term expires.

It appears that the reason Mr. Gould did not attend Mr. Vanderbilt's party was not that he had no dress suit, but lacked an invitation.

De Lesseps repeatedly asserted at a banquet party Sunday night that while he and his son lived France would control the Suez Canal.

The oil belt of Wyoming is said to be larger than that of Pennsylvania, and a railroad is soon to be constructed through the district.

The Maine rivers have frozen up so as to close navigation, the lakes and rivers are solid, and the large sailing ships in the northern part of the state.

Six thousand six hundred miles of main track were laid in the United States during the year just closing, making the total number of miles of railway in the United States about 135,000.

Mr. Bell, the new Superintendent of Architecture at Washington, thinks the Capitol building has been built on a small man.

William Hunter, assistant secretary of state at Washington, has been in the government service fifty-three years, and promises to last a good while longer. He is an able and efficient officer, notwithstanding his years.

"Is this your property?" asked the District Attorney of a lady who was robbed of some jewelry, as he handed her a watch chain. "Yes, it certainly is mine," she replied. "But how do you identify it?" "How do I? I have bought it and paid for it," she said.

The highest velocity that has been measured in air is given as 1,000 feet per second, being equal to a mile in 3.2 seconds. The velocity of the earth at the equator, due to rotation on its axis, is 1,670 miles per hour, or a mile in 3.5 seconds; and thus, if a cannon ball were fired due west, and could maintain its initial velocity, it would bear the earth in its apparent journey round the earth.

At a North Carolina wedding six pistol shots were fired within the space of a minute. The best man was killed and one of the groomsmen mortally wounded. As the happy couple was leaving the church the bride handed one of the ushers a piece of paper and whispered to him: "See the reporters at once, give them this description of my dress, say the bride behaved like a heroine, and be sure and get my name spelled right."

The Sterling (Rice Co.) Gazette says the Kansas Sugar Company will greatly enlarge their works for the next season. It looks like a very big hat on a small man.

William Hunter, assistant secretary of state at Washington, has been in the government service fifty-three years, and promises to last a good while longer. He is an able and efficient officer, notwithstanding his years.

Several years ago, in a horse-car, William Cullen Bryant and Bayard Taylor were comparing notes about the poet Whittier, who, they believed, could not live long. They are dead and Whittier celebrated his birth birthday recently.

The annual meeting of the Kansas Wool Growers' and Sheep Breeders' Association will take place at Topeka on the 25th of January. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and other important business will be transacted.

James Gordon Bennett is said by persons who have seen him in Paris lately to become "prematurely old." His hair is turning gray, and he is an old man. His chief amusement now is to read.

A few weeks ago it was a cake of soap that caught a fire and saved a man's life. Now it is the correct claim that prevented a Pennsylvania woman being penetrated by a half ounce of soap.

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—Gen. Thos. L. Kane, one of the most prominent citizens of the state, died at his residence in this city this morning of pneumonia. During the rebellion he was the chief surgeon of the 11th Pennsylvania Cavalry, and a brother of the famous Arctic explorer.

According to Belgium papers the health of the ex-Empress Charlotte, widow of Maximilian, has so much improved within the last five months that her physicians entertain hopes of her recovery. She is now in her 43d year, but looks much older, her hair being gray. She has become thin and wrinkled, but her eyes still retain their original brilliancy. The King and Queen of the Belgians often visit her at the castle of Bouillon where she resides.

The case of Gen. McKensie, U. S. A., who was temporarily relieved of the command of the department of Texas, is one replete with pathos. Only a few weeks ago the announcement was given of his intended marriage during the Christmas holidays, and this was speedily followed by a statement that his mind had been deranged.

Some very curiously worded advertisements creep into the newspapers now and then. Here, for instance, are three amusing examples of confusion which one English traveler says he read in one issue of a London paper: "Lost. A camera brooch, walking in Sandy Mount, on Sunday last."</
